OUR GOOD
NEIGHBORS

"I wish , above all else, to see the formation in America of the greatest nation in all history, the greatest, not so much because of its size and riches, as because of its liberty and the greatness of its deeds."

—SIMÓN BOLÍVAR.

DEDICATION

WE, the members of the Class of June 1943, dedicate this "Cog 'n' Pen" to our good neighbors, the Latin American Republics of the Western Hemisphere, in the fervent hope that united in amity and power, we may nobly defend and preserve that freedom so dear to us all, and bring to pass a permanent and a just peace.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

WE, the members of the Class of June, 1943, owe a great debt to Central High School, which we shall never be able to repay. Before we leave these halls, nevertheless, we wish to express our deepest gratitude to Mr. Ralston for his kindly patience and guidance; to Miss Martin and Mr. McCracken for their unceasing work in our behalf and to our many teachers for their instruction, advice and friendship during these four years. We shall not forget you. Nor shall we forget that intangible something which is Central, created by the thousands of students who have passed through these halls, noisily, happily, sadly, quietly out into the world.

We also wish to take this occasion to thank Miss Boutillier and the Class of June 1939 for granting us permission to use their picture of Central in our Cog 'n' Pen.

CLASS SONG

by JERRY DE PAUL

Boldly it stands upon the hill
Its towers gleaming high,
A school that has a golden heart
And honors toward the sky;
Proudly its noble record stands
Among the books of old,
That such a school of loyalty
Surrounds a heart of gold.

Bravely it greets the morning dew
To face a future day,
For such a school of great renown
Must never pass away;
Fondly its colors wave on high
In skies of blue above,
And as we leave these golden halls
Our hearts are filled with love.

CHORUS

Central High, dear Alma Mater
From thee we do depart,
We know you'll always linger on
In each and every heart;
Our souls are set within your walls
Within they will remain,
For you're the one who spent the time
To give us a future aim.

FOUR YEARS AT CENTRAL

THE year 1939 was a year of momentous events. Joe Di Maggio batted 381. Eighty-six million gallons of gasoline were sold in New Jersey. Hitler invaded Poland and the World of Tomorrow opened in Flatbush.

These, and many other happenings, account for the fact that another momentous event passed quite unnoticed by most people except for a few malicious sophomores. The Class of June 1943, Technical and Industrial branches only, entered Central High School unheralded and unsung. They found "up stairs" and "down stairs", sophs yelling, "Buy yer elevator tickets here", arrows in the halls, teachers shaking their heads wearily and saying, "They grow smaller every year, don't they?" We didn't fall for that elevator gag and kept our quarters. We weren't so dumb, even as freshmen!

At first, we sat up straight and studied hard. Some of us are still sitting up pretty straight and studying fairly hard. Central made others giddy. They are no longer with us! Let us pause one moment out of respect to the late departed!

We found Margaret's the first week and soon learned the cooperative system of doing algebra. "Hey there. Lemme have yer algebra", could be heard frequently in homeroom.

We went to the football games. That year the team was not colossal but we got good and hoarse yelling anyway.

January came and we passed every subject. For the method, consult "Dig Down Deep". About now, we felt as though we owned the place and looked down from our mighty five feet upon incoming 1 B's. We were 1 A's now. It was our turn to yell, "Buy yer elevator tickets here." Didn't sell one, though. Wise guys, those freshies!

Yes, there was a war; but England and France were sitting peacefully on their side of the "impregnable" Maginot Line and our older brothers were still tooting around in the family car.

Summer came and went. September again and back we went to the grind. The World of Tomorrow closed and Hitler was on the loose.

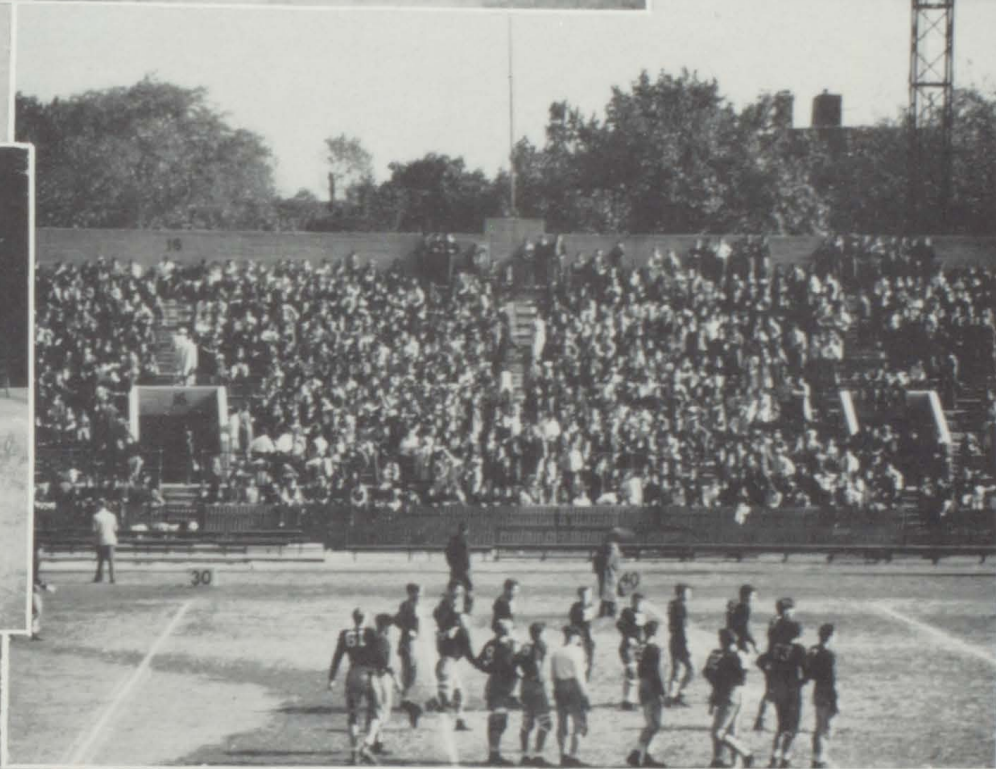

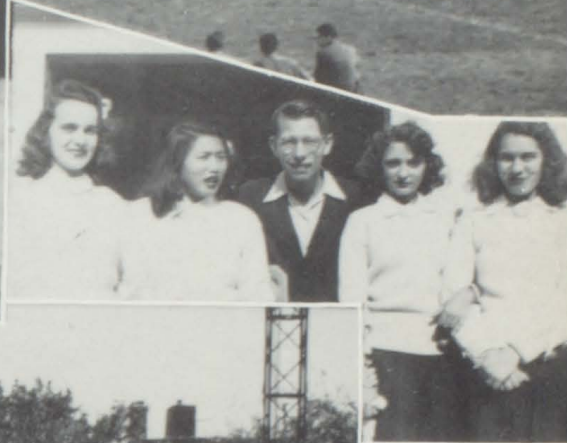

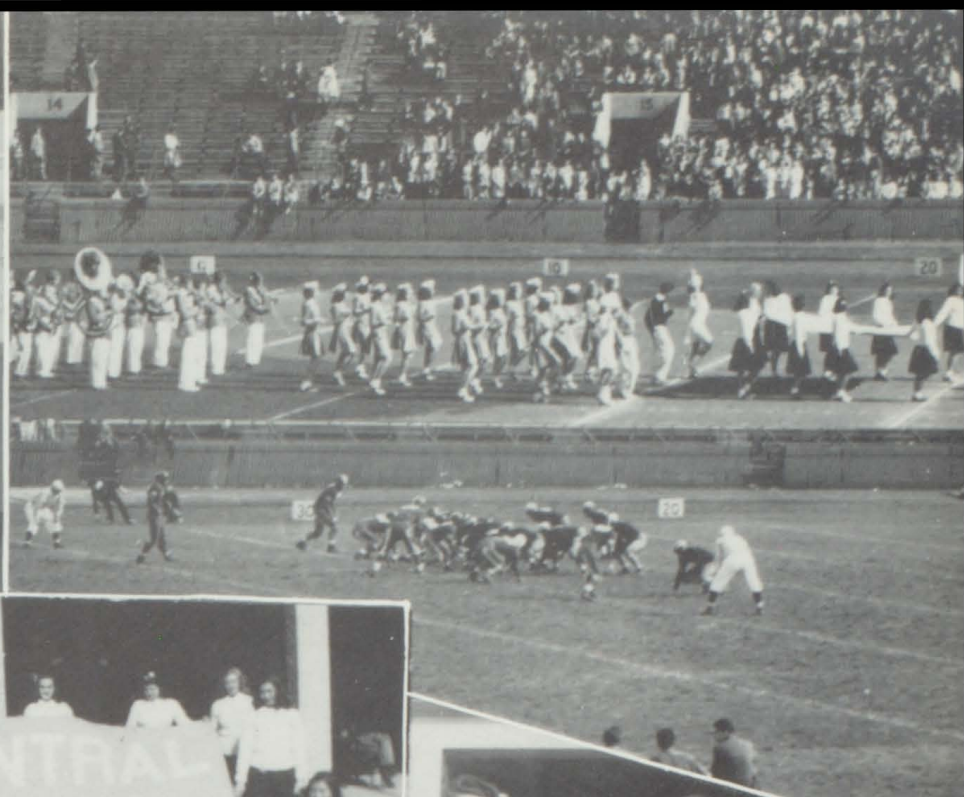

Another year rolled by. It was the fall of '41 and we increased suddenly to four-hundred and found that our bachelor days were over, for the feminine branch of the Class of June '43 arrived with a flutter from the Annex. A swell bunch of business boys arrived simultaneously. Hardy ones, those fellows!

We were scornful at first. However, we soon found ourselves combing our hair several times a day and changing our shirt more than once a week, polishing our shoes and considering the purchase of a razor. We wished that little brunette had her stenography class nearer the electricity room.

The minute the girls arrived things started to happen. We discovered that we had advisors. No one had ever seen them, but they existed. We elected representatives to an Executive Council and soon discovered that with class consciousness came class dues! The representatives began to extract our five dollar dues in small amounts so that it would not hurt too much in 4A.

Being a talented and aggressive group, we soon started a news sheet called the "Torch", edited by Alan Speck. This spread the news and gossip among the class members and included fervent pleas from Dr. Profeta to, "Pay your dues now!"

Football was good that year. We won three games and could hardly speak for cheering. At last, Central could lift its head.

FOUR YEARS AT CENTRAL

December 7th—Pearl Harbor—it could happen here!

While we were still stunned by the news, we heard there was to be a 3B rally in the lower gym. We decided to go. Perhaps, the brunette would be there. The girls were a pretty fine lot and the brunette was there! We appeared to be a talented class too. Mary Parker and Ann Formato put on a great performance, and Ezra Kohn seemed to know a good deal about electricity. Lee Casper introduced the performers in a masterly manner. After that came dancing, but we stood alone and abashed along the side lines. All the little girls seemed to know how and some of those business fellows appeared to have caught on—eh, Johnny?

We really owed it to the school to learn to dance. A resolution was made and passed to devote ourselves to this.

Basketball was good in '42. We reached the first championship game. Foreman, Mandelstein and Becker did their stuff, game after game. We all felt pretty good about it!

Came May and elections. At last we elected officers. Following an energetic campaign, Lee Casper became president and Ralph Mazzocchi, vice-president. Jean Eng, who had been helping to keep class finances in order for almost a year, became treasurer; and Rose Nemeth, was elected our capable secretary.

The results of the elections were announced at the 3A dance which strangely enough was not too well attended. In the light of our future success, this seemed odd indeed. Perhaps, we hadn't learned to dance well enough yet.

Then came sugar rationing; that meant half sessions. Not so bad at that! "Sorry, sir, no gas," we heard at gas stations everywhere.

Summer and June were upon us, and many of us got jobs, which were becoming plentiful. We managed to save up a goodly amount with which to buy orchids for that blonde bomb shell at the Junior-Senior prom in January.

We read in the papers, "Draft age lowered. Men of eighteen to be drafted." "Men of eighteen!" We were seventeen and a half. Wasn't it yesterday a sophomore was yelling, "Hey, kid, get stilts". "They grow smaller and smaller every year," echoed in our ears. We were to be defenders of our country. Some of us registered; we, ourselves, not till a little later. Angelo said, "I have to go down to my draft board this afternoon."

September was with us again. We were Seniors at last, although not 4A's yet, of course. We paid the rest of our dues out of our summer earnings and set ourselves to planning our 4B dance. It was in November and Mrs. Welles and her Decorating Club headed by Yolanda Del Grosso did a grand job decorating the gym to resemble a fall landscape.

The dance was colossal, terrific, frenetic! Why, as Diana Stathopoulos said, "What a swell dance! The floor is so crowded you can hardly move." Johnnie and Edith were there, Ralph and Claire, Scottie and Helen, Frank and Bertha, Mafalda and Doc. Yep, we were pairing off. Lee and Ralph gave out the prizes and we were proud of our officers.

January, and at last we ordered our rings. January also brought the Junior-Senior prom, "One Night in Rio". Was that gym handsome! Soft lights; yes, we liked them now. Palms, pretty red heads, orchids, gardenias, and good music thrilled us. The Casper-Mazzocchi team gave out prizes again, and the 4A's said it was a grand dance. We thought so, too.

We were 4A's at last! Some of us were already in the Service—De Triquet, Medwicky, Ingram, Newman, Giordano. "It won't be long", we were all saying.

It was time for the senior elections and everyone wanted to be vice-president. There were eight candidates for that office. Angelo Calvanese became our new president and Frank Cardinale won the much desired office of vice-president. Flo Cocozza became our new secretary and Jean Eng remained treasurer. Many thanks to our 4B officers. They did a good job. Thanks, too, to the 3B, 3A and 4B executive councils, and to the collectors whose approach was always greeted by deep groans.

Yes, we were getting our pictures taken, and compiling the year book became our greatest problem. John and James, Mafalda, Angelina, Fulvia, Edith, John Mercorelli, Frank Ondrejicka were beginning to draw. Ralph was scarcely ever seen without a camera in his hand. The 4A Sales classes and Rose and Charlotte were beginning to scour the town for ads. They have brought in more than any preceding class.

Claire seemed to spend all her time in the book room of 326 in front of the typewriter. Nearly every morning either she or Mrs. Litch appeared in our homeroom demanding that snapshot.

The tempo increased now. Harder and harder we worked on that history! Suppose we should fail! Along came the Saint Patrick's Day Dance which again was a huge success financially. Once more, we were proud of our officers, Angelo and Frank, who gave out the prizes and read out the winners of the class ballot.

Foreman, Mandelstein and Becker, et al, hadn't forgotten how to play basketball, and Central won the swimming championship. Great stuff!

The earthly existence of the Class of June '43 is drawing to an end. The yearbook goes to press next week. There will be exams which we hope to pass, high or low. The juniors will give us a dance and we shall have the fun of attending a dance without having to come back Saturday to take down the decorations.

Then, on the night of June 23, hot and excited, we shall don our caps and gowns and wait for eight-thirty. We shall be muttering, "On which side do we put the tassel?" Even the most swaggering and unsentimental of us feel a lump in our throats as we approach this long desired goal, graduation.

It is eight-thirty. We are marching slowly. There is Mr. Ralston on the stage. Hundreds of faces swim in front of us. Things grow confused. "Buy yer elevator tickets here—smaller than ever—hey there, lemme have yer algebra home work—see you at Margaret's—going to the game?—boy, I passed history!" A thousand memories crowd our minds. The organ is playing, "High Above the Busy City"—oh yes, we must sing!

In a few minutes, it will all be over. We are graduates of Central and many of us are off to do a little chore before we settle down. Those four years were so crammed full of happy times. The unhappy ones are all forgotten. Thanks, Central, we shall not forget you. We shall see to it that you and other schools like you continue to offer to future Americans the free and liberal education which we have received—and the grand good times!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

WHEREAS the powers that be have seen fit to terminate our stay at Central High School, we, the Class of June 1943, being of sound (?) mind and reasonably good spirits do hereby designate this to be our last will and testament:

1. To the Class of January '44 we leave our dignity (!), cooperation (!!), manners (!!!) and sympathy (??).
2. To the sophomores we leave our complete files which we inherited from previous classes to which they shall have free recourse for book reports and term projects. (They, like cheese, improve with age).
3. To the juniors we leave a package of vitamin pills to carry them through their final year of toil, sweat and tears.
4. To "Mother" Gormley we leave our best wishes that she may continue to defend our weaker sisters against those bold "Commandos" of the West.
5. To "Boss" Casey and the boys we leave the "works".
6. To all our successors we leave all the various and sundry "refresher" devices which we have found to be useful on test days.
7. To all those who suffer from thirst we leave the fountains that squirt in your face. (They do everything but give you a drink. Warm water preferred.)
8. To new chemistry students we leave the "secret" (?) formula of H_2S . (Long may it smell!)
9. To various members of the faculty we give and bequeath the following:
 - Mr. Strang: "Everything in good shape"
 - Mr. Schleicher: 5,000 blank maps and "Honest Joe"
 - Mr. Eisen: One bottle of Pepsi-Cola and a comic book (Pep?)
 - Mr. Voegelin: "You may close your books, please"
 - Dr. Profeta: A new batch of secretaries.
10. To all late students we leave the privilege of waiting in line for a tardy slip. (What happens to 'em?)

11. To all students we leave one much dulled penknife for the purpose of carving initials on all school property.
12. To those of our successors who need it occasionally in a pinch, we leave a bottle of ink eradicator and a pen knife for the purpose of liquidating all absent marks and failures appearing on report cards.
13. To new Spanish students we leave a copy of Pittaro and Green with complete translations between the lines.
14. To "Officer of the day" Boehringer we leave a new batch of freshmen to put on the broom squad.
15. To the freshmen we leave our residuary estate after everything else has been taken out.
16. Lastly, to our faculty advisers, Mrs. Litch and Dr. Profeta, our Principal and his assistants we leave sincere appreciation and gratitude for their unfailing help and guidance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 23rd day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three.

EDITORIAL

Where shall we be ten years from now? Your guess is as good as mine. No matter where we are, however, we shall always remember Central, our friends, the good times we had,—everything about it. This yearbook will never be thrown away. Perhaps it will be put in the attic, or tucked away in the bookcase to be forgotten. But think of it once in a while. Take it out of its hiding place and reminisce as you turn the pages, one by one. You see a picture and smile. He or she used to be your old beau, or gal. How different it was then from now!

We shall all be in different occupations. Do not be surprised to read in the paper that a member of our class has done something great. Central turns out quality. Many great men and women have passed through her doors.

You cannot get away from the fact that some of us will be in a different world, free from all worries. Some of us will be heroes, others will merely have done their job in winning the war and the peace to come.

Remember, then, this yearbook holds the key to memories of your stay in Central.

DEPARTMENT OF UTTER CONFUSION

We hear that Ed Sironi is carving a great career for himself in radio. Well, there's one place he will be able to talk to lots of people who can't talk back.

We had a V-mail letter the other day which we think you ought to know about. Szulczynski reported from North Africa that as the result of his technical training at Central, he had hitched a Whirling Dervish to the battalion ice cream freezer. "Production is breaking all records," says Szulczynski.

In the first place, our glamour girl, Bernice Russell has been very busy lately, what with thisa and thata. A certain friend of hers in Guadalcanal once knocked off six Japs and copped from one of them a swell jewelled dress sword. Hope you get it some day, Bernice.

OUR TENTH REUNION

NEWARK, N. J. June 20, 1953—(Delayed) (P A)
—Here are a few of the highlights of our "Terrific Tenth" especially prepared for those who could not attend. The time was 7:30; the date, as above (according to information just released by the Navy Department); the place—the Hudson River.

We got there well ahead of the rest of the graduates, all set for a moonlight sail up the Hudson. Since gas rationing had long since been abolished, our flivver plane had plenty of fuel for the short hop from the Central steps to Battery Park. We parked our plane near the dock, just a few steps from the ship. As we stepped on board we were greeted by the captain, Angelo Scucci. He told us that several members of our class were working on the boat. Since the war many jobs have been available in the palatial new ships of the Hudson River Line.

Modesto Farina came next, carrying some choice Farina Brand. The barrel was dripping a bit, so Bill La Torre was there as usual trying to catch the drippings with Yolanda Del Grosso hanging on his coat.

Captain Scucci then took us on a tour of the boat. First, we went down to the engine room, and there, stoking coal, were Nick Sedicino and Sam Mastroni. The chief engineer, Albert Wold, explained that the stokers worked scientifically trying to do the greatest amount of work with the least amount of energy. We saw someone crawling around behind the engines, oiling them. Why, it was Dante Milano! He looked as though he had just taken a Turkish bath!

We then went to the upper deck to see some more of the arrivals. Among them were Scottie (need I say more) Tornillo and his same old girl, Helen Grieco. There was Charles Perna wearing a new sky-blue-pink and deep purple bow tie. There were also Sam (drape) Corso, Neil Onofrietto, Walter Stepanuk and Benny Testa, all bachelors.

The captain sent the cabin boy, John Nagy, down with orders to get under way.

We felt the need of a bracer so we drifted into the bar. The bartender was none other than Lee Casper. He served us a strong buttermilk and we went on our way.

A familiar figure stood in the crow's nest, waving a stick around. It was none other than Angelo Calvanese leading his band which was sitting on the deck below. Playing hot licks on the trumpet was Robert

Brown, and tickling the ivories was Mike (Beat Me Daddy) Bottone. The sweet tones of Anthony Cocuzza's saxophone filled the dance hall. Over in a corner was a large sign reading, "Chickie and Muffie, Dance Lessons, $1.00 Each." Anything for a living!

The show must go on so Angelo and his Boiler-makers swung into a Latin-American tune as Johnnie Petrucci and Rae Vetro loosened up their joints and got hep to the jive.

As the air was getting a bit stuffy we wandered around the deck. Peeking through an open port hole we were astonished to see a beautiful studio with Jimmy Caruso painting a life-size portrait of Anthula Koronakos who was posing prettily in a cotton play dress.

As we wandered about all evening, we saw waltzing couples, men and girls gazing at the moon, groups listening to the war experiences of Brinkman, de Paul, Newman, Giordano, De Triquet.

Everybody was having a good time. Why, we even saw the chief cook, Frank Cardinale, and his assistant, Myck Caprio, mixing up a batch of pastry.

The evening went by extremely fast and before we knew it the boat was back in New York.

As we walked back to the parking lot we noticed a refuse can with the inscription "Architectural Designs by John A. Alvine." Frank Cangi, the noted racketeer, offered to take us home. We found his plane crowded with Mildred Matta so returned in our own instead. It seemed as though her cheese diet of ten years ago had done her little good.

The reunion was over, so until next year Au Revoir, but not Good bye.

DEPARTMENT OF UTTER CONFUSION (Con't)

Our channel swimmer, Charlie Perna, has been lecturing successfully to the Twirlers on his experiences among the Xzygathys, a little known tribe of cannibals in Darkest Africa. The title of his lecture is "Notes to You."

Oh, do you remember about the order Bill Waldron received back in '43? He was the head of the shoe department of Bam's then, you know. Well, Rommel cabled a rush order for two hundred thousand pairs of running shoes.

Joe Rispo, the w.k. sportsman, is going to the wide open spaces this summer. His address will be La Cucaracha, Arizona, where he owns a rubber tire mine. Meanwhile, he may be discovered afternoons at Margaret's in a Brooks cutaway coat and silk hat.

It isn't our usual custom to listen very carefully, but we recently heard that lovely Pat McDonald has completed a very succesful movie, "Boogie Woogie in Purple", for M. G. M.

Jerry De Paul has a niche in the Hall of Fame because of his Class Song which is published in an earlier page of this Compendium of Misinformation.

Alan Speck has become principal of Miss Beard's School in Orange. We hear he presides with great dignity at the head of the dinner table, calling out, "Up with the napkins, girls, here comes the soup."

Some of us have always maintained that Nelson Eddy has a great voice, but Vincent De Maio is better still, yes, very still. He has settled down as a hot dog man. His theme song is:

"The dog stood on the burning deck,
The flames flew up around his neck,
Hot dog."

AVOID "The Road to Anywhere"

THOSE WHO CHOOSE SUCH A COURSE, THUS PERMITTING THE FUTURE TO TAKE CARE OF ITSELF, MAKE A MAJOR MISTAKE.

AIMLESS WANDERING IS NOT FOR MODERN YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN, WHO MUST PREPARE THEMSELVES FOR THE SKILLS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF A CHOSEN CAREER IF THEY ARE TO MEET STERN COMPETITION.

FIX YOUR PURPOSE AND FOLLOW IT WITH DETERMINATION.
THEN YOU WILL BE TRAVELLING—

The Road to Success!

Courses of Study—Day and Evening Classes

These courses take care of four different types of students: (1) The student who wishes to continue and secure an A.B. or B.S. degree; (2) the student who wishes to take only two years of college and secure a diploma; (3) the student who desires to complete a semi-professional course such as accounting, art, dramatics, photography, secretarial work, medical-secretarial work, business administration, comptometry, homemaking, study of laboratory technique, or music; (4) the student who wants to take pre-medicine, pre-law, pre-dentistry, pre-engineering, or pre-nursing.

A diploma is offered at the end of the two year course.

Summer Session

A sixteen week course from May 24th until September 10 provides full semester credit for subjects taken and allows 18 points.
